

2nd Diversity and Human Capital Workshop: Well-being

June 10-11, 2024
University of Exeter

The purpose of the workshop series is to promote discussion of ongoing research on the economics of diversity, inclusivity, and human capital. The second workshop will focus on well-being. The workshop will include keynote speakers, networking sessions, and a number of presentations.

We will discuss academic research with a focus on health; human capital investments; labour market disparities; gender-based violence; cultural and normative influences on well-being; and welfare policies.
